

2050

Edinburgh City Vision

A vision for our changing city

Establish our priorities

Preparing for the future

Learning from other cities

Vancouver

Copenhagen

New York

Bristol

Newcastle

Reading

Milton Keynes

Glasgow

And others...

Learning from other cities

Tangible benefits worth aiming for

Guidance on how to build our vision

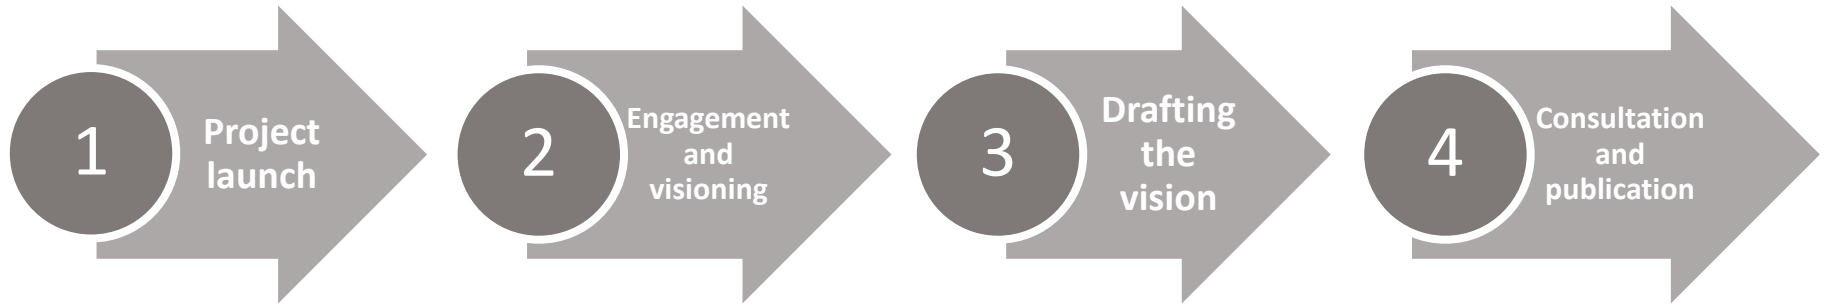

Our approach to building a vision for Edinburgh

A vision for the city, not a vision for the Council

The vision and its development is owned by everyone with a stake in our city

Your active participation and engagement is the key to success

Four steps to building a vision

Framing the conversation

Think about...

Edinburgh's people:

You, your family and your community

Edinburgh's economy:

Your job, your business and your money

Edinburgh's environment:

Your home, your street and your planet

Three questions...

①

What's great about Edinburgh in 2016?

②

What could be better?

③

What would you like Edinburgh to be like in 2050?

Reaching out

edinburgh2050.dialogue-app.com

Register to post ideas,
comment or vote

16 themes

Social media

#edinburgh2050

A city vision for Edinburgh

Throughout its history Edinburgh has been a city of innovation and change. In 2016 we are a successful city where population is growing more quickly than any other major city in the UK, and whose strong economy and quality of life is recognised across the world. However, the city needs to adapt and change if we are to continue to be a great place to live, to work and to visit.

To help us deliver that change, we need a clear vision of what the Edinburgh of 2050 should be like, for its residents, its businesses and its visitors. Building this vision will give us an opportunity to think about the long term future of our city and create a meaningful, statement of the kind of city Edinburgh aspires to be.

We want you to tell us what you think is great about Edinburgh just now, what could be better and what you think Edinburgh should be like in 2050.

Join the conversation

Below are a number of challenges that we're looking for your feedback on. To join the conversation and put forward your own thoughts and ideas please register for this site. All you need to provide is an email address. You can also comment on and rate other people's ideas too.

You can also keep up-to-date with progress by visiting edinburgh.org/2050.

Current Challenges

Previous Challenges

Culture and Tourism

Get Involved

Join the conversation

Submit your ideas: edinburgh2050.dialogue-app.com

Tell us what else you can do to help shape a vision for our city?

How can we make best use of your networks,
resources, experience and knowledge?

2050

Edinburgh City Vision

Join in the conversation

www.edinburgh.org/2050

#edinburgh2050