From the atmospheric cobbled streets of the Old Town to the beautiful Georgian avenues of the New Town, Edinburgh’s architectural landscape is one of dramatic contrasts reflecting its rich and intriguing past, and a source of inspiration to hundreds of filmmakers every year. Wander through its atmospheric streets, from the iconic Royal Mile leading to the medieval fortress of Edinburgh Castle and the Palace of Holyroodhouse, to bustling Princes Street where the towering Scott Monument stands.

The city’s backdrop of Arthur’s Seat, the Pentland Hills and Edinburgh’s Waterfront make the city a unique visitor destination. In just one day you can explore the city’s exciting new waterfront development, wander the cosmopolitan streets of the Port of Leith, take a cruise on the River Forth and explore the rugged terrain of the volcanic Arthur’s Seat.

Edinburgh’s bars, venues and theatres provide all the opportunity you need to relax and enjoy the city. Edinburgh has a wealth of fantastic places to eat and more Michelin-star restaurants than any other city outside London. Edinburgh is also renowned the world over for its year-round festivals where the city’s streets throng with visitors from around the world.
